Chinook Tennis Players

Organize For Season

A very enthusiastic meeting of tennis players was held in the waiting room of the Chinook station on Thursday evening, when the following officers were elected for the season:

Hon President, Lorne Proud-
foot; President, O. B. Elliott;
Vice-president, J. L. Carter; Sec-

son and R. Smith.

Arrangements were made to have the tennis grounds fixed up, and to order two nets so that this year two courts would be available for the players. It was also agreed that the tennis club should prepare the court near Mr. Hurley's residence for the junior tennis players.

The membership fee was set at

Rain, Snow and Blizzard

Can you beat this for winter weather in the spring of the year?
In one week Chinook district has been visited with a good rain followed by a heavy fall of snow on Saturday, then as if to put the finishing touches to the fickle
April weather, a real blizzard raged all Monday and Tuesday.
The strong wind piled the snow into drifts from 3 to 5 feet deep.
It is many years since the farmers of this district have seen so much precipitation so early in the spring. The rain and snow will delay the farmers from getting on the land for another week.
The delay, however, will be mortally offset by the benefit of the extra moisture given the soil.

Conviction Quashed

An order has recently been granted by His Honour Judge
Stewart, at Hanna, on the applica-and quashing the conviction made on the 8th March last at Youngstown by Mr. J. Gilchrist, Magistrate, against Joseph Jackson.

This was on a charge laid against Jackson by H. B. Allen in regard to a jumper. The appeal was allowed without costs and the fine was ordered to be refunded.

Little Joyce Milligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Milligan, who has been sick with pleurisy, is now much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bowman and family left this morning for Marchand, Manitoba, where they have rented a dairy farm.

Little Miss Norma Hurley entertained at her home on Wednesday evening a large party of young people. Those present re-

Canada Offers To Newcomers A Splendid Opportunity To Achieve a State of Independence

Canada's offer to the people of Europe, and in fact to potential new citizens in any part of the world, is an opportunity to achieve independence on her lands. The Dominion does not claim that success is to be won in her dominion with any less effort than elsewhere, but does maintain that the road of absolute independence is within the reach of every individual stretching out sufficiently vigorously after it. Canada has always been known as a land of home owners, and just what extent this is true and the Dominion fulfills her promise, is illustrated in statistical material which has been compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In contrast to nearly every other part of the world, followers of Canada's first industry of agriculture pursue their calling to a very large extent on terms of their own. The Dominion is singularly free from the disabilities which follow in the wake of an agricultural population with a large proportion of renters. Of all the farms in Canada at the time of the 1921 census, numbering 171,090, 615,480 were owned outright by those who lived upon them. This represents 85.5 per cent. of the total farming population. The percentage of farm owners is high in each of the provinces, being as follows:—Prince Edward Island, 95.6 per cent.; Nova Scotia, 94.1 per cent.; Quebec, 91.9 per cent.; Ontario, 85.2 per cent.; Manitoba, 82 per cent.; Saskatchewan, 77.6 per cent.; Alberta, 80.2 per cent.; British Columbia, 83.3 per cent. In comparison with the above figures the percentage of farmers operated by owners in the United States was only 66.6 of the total in 1920, and the proportion shows a decline each decade.

It is not only upon farms that Canada's home owners are found, but 61.91 per cent. of all homes in the Dominion are owned by their inhabitants, and only 23.99 rented. Among rural dwellers the percentage of home owners is 75.50, and among urban dwellers, 49.67. The percentage of home owners is highest in Prince Edward Island, where it stands at 98.73 per cent., and lowest in Quebec, where it 51.71 per cent. The percentages in the other provinces are as follows:—Saskatchewan, 75.01 per cent.; Alberta, 82.37 per cent.; Nova Scotia, 85.21 per cent.; New Brunswick, 65.26 per cent.; Manitoba, 61.77 per cent.; Ontario 62.25 per cent.; British Columbia, 54.14 per cent.

The substantial proportion of home owners among the farmers of Canada is to be expected in a consideration of the facility of land tenure in Canada today and the general encouragement given towards farm establishment. It would be yet considerably larger did it include the large number who are gradually paying for their holdings on terms extended over a number of years and who are virtually farm owners. But the figures of home owners among the urban population are also gratifying, indicating that to have a proportion less its roots so definitely sunk. The home owner, the family man with such a stake in the country, is one who is there to stay, not to waver with the vacillation of prosperity.

Cloth From Moss

Muskeg Moss of Northern Manitoba May Become Valuable

It is said that the mosses in the muskegs in Northern Manitoba are useful for several purposes. It is possible that the cellulose content can be converted into a cloth that is now in popular demand. Investigations are in progress. The Natural Resources Department of the Canadian National Railways is taking an active interest in the investigations.

Buffalo Herds in West

A census of the buffalo herds in the various national parks of Canada taken on March 1, 1927, shows that in Buffalo park, Wainwright, Alberta, there were 6,610 buffalo and in Elk Island park, Alberta, 480. There are also over 5,000 buffalo in the Wood Buffalo park near Fort Smith, N.W.T.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association with over 700 delegates, will hold its annual convention in the West this year, meeting at Calgary, Alberta, in June.

Interested in Plowing Matches

University of Saskatchewan Will Supervise Many Tests This Year

The growing interest in the proper use of agricultural machinery in Saskatchewan is manifest in the large number of applications for plowing matches and demonstrations, which has been received by the department of agricultural extension, University of Saskatchewan.

John G. Raynor, director of the department, estimates that approximately 30 matches or demonstrations will be held this year as compared to only ten matches during 1925. To date there are 19 applications on hand.

The demonstrations will be conducted by two members of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the University.

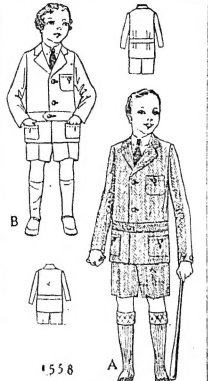

According to present arrangements the matches will all be held from June 19 to about June 25.

Where matches are held one-half of the prize money awarded is given by the government in the form of a grant. The limit set by the government is $50 for each match.

Birds Invaluable to Farmer

People Should Be Taught Not to Destroy Them

It is a good thing at this season of the year to remind young people not to destroy the insectivorous birds which render such countless and invaluable services to the farmer and the world at large. In many parts of the country insects have caused serious damage for some years, both to the forests and the harvests. We should therefore, pay all the more attention to the preservation of the birds which aid in the destruction of the insects which attack our crops and growing timber.

New Game Bird for Canada

"Cock of the Wood" Will Make Its Appearance if Ottawa Accepts Esthonian's Offer

Canada may have a new game bird if an offer which George van der Belten, representative of the Government of Esthonia, who visited in Ottawa in the course of a Canadian tour, made to the Federal authorities is accepted. "Cock of the Wood" hunting may take its place along with duck and deer and partridge shooting as the great fall pastime of the many Canadians who at that season of the year feel inclined to go out and kill something.

Mr. Van der Belten, in behalf of his Government offers to present a number of Russian "Cock of the Wood" to Canada with the idea that this bird will find Canadian climate and other conditions to its liking, and increase and multiply here. The "cock of the wood" is the largest member of the grouse family in the world, weighing from seven to seventeen pounds when fully developed, and it would not take many specimens of this bird to make a full day's bag any ordinary hunter.

Mr. Van der Belten is studying the problem of game conservation and is also investigating fur farming. This industry, he states, is developing rapidly in his country, and includes silver fox farming, the first animals for which were imported to Esthonia from Canada.

Planning Big Muskrat Farm Near Winnipeg

Will be World's Largest if Enterprise is Launched

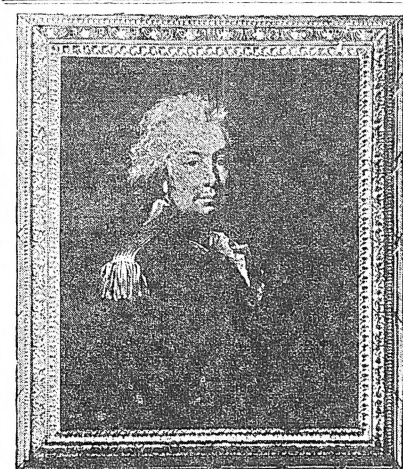

What will probably be the most extensive muskrat "farm" in the world will be established in Northern Manitoba. American interests with capital amounting to $100,000 have been "cranking" the country adjacent to Lake Winnipeg with the idea of selecting suitable sites upon which options would be secured, the land leased or purchased and the enterprise launched. It has not yet been definitely established that the business will be gone ahead, but if it is decided to go ahead production of many thousands of rat pelts per year would be possible. If a market could be found for the carcasses rat farming on a large scale would be less expensive. Rat must be said to be as good as rabbit, and some profess to have a liking for it, but it is doubtful if consumption in this country will ever reach large proportions.

New Style of Wallpaper

A rubberized, washable wallpaper was exhibited at the recent Düsseldorf exposition for public health and welfare. It is said to be equal to other wallpapers in appearance and superior in endurance. It is available in a great number of designs and colors for use in hospitals, hotels, public buildings and summer houses. The product has the appearance of wallpaper, not oilcloth or linoleum.

It takes an extemporaneous speaker to talk fluently about nothing.

In this world of strife a man must either be an avill or a hammer.

An Eighteenth Century Governor

The collection of paintings now hanging in the City Hall, Toronto, has been enriched by the addition to it of the portrait by Mounier of General John Graves Simcoe, after whom the city of Simcoe, Ontario, was named, and who was the first Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada. His first capital was Newark (Niagara), and later York (Toronto). His government was notable for its efforts to open up the province by means of the building of roads and the encouragement of immigration and in many ways his policy was far-sighted.

The painting which was formally accepted by the Toronto Board of Control was offered by Sir Leicester Harcourt, English baronet. It was brought over to the Dominion on Canadian Pacific steamship Montcalm.

Idea Has Been Tried Out

Experimenters Prove Music Played at Milking Time Increased Yield

The astonishing observation that music makes cows and goats give increased quantities of milk is reported by two German physiologists, Drs. Nebert and Koch, says Dr. E. E. Free's Week's Science (New York) as follows:

It is not necessary to keep the cows or other animals in a continual environment of the concert-room. All that the experimenters did was to arrange that music be played in the stable during the milking. The invariable result was that the animals being milked yielded more milk with music than without it. There is no record of the effect of different kinds of music; of whether jazz or classical opera possesses the highest milk-yielding properties. The observation was not entirely unexpected, for it has long been believed by scientific students of the way in which milk is produced by the milk giving animals that nervous stimuli have pronounced effects on this process. Although cows are not commonly imagined to possess highly strung nervous systems, it is known that things tending to excite them may interfere seriously with the yield of milk. On the other hand, it is probable that surroundings which calm the nerves and prevent fear or excitement are favorable to milk production. Although Dr. Nebert and Dr. Koch promise no practical application of their discovery to the dairy industry, it is probable that some enterprising farmer will try soon the effects of milking-time radio programs or of phonograph concerts on his milk-yielding stock.

Harrowing Emerging Crops

Ultimate Effect Found to be Very Beneficial

A number of experiments have been made during recent years at the Brandon, Alberta, Experimental Substation with the harrowing of cereals, sunflowers and other crops with a light lever harrow just as they are peeping through the ground. The superintendent of the substation in his latest report, states that the ultimate effect upon the crop is usually beneficial. The object is, of course, to destroy germinating weeds. To make the operation successful the grain should have been drilled at a fair depth and at the time of harrowing should be showing single shoots just emerging. The harrow must be light and the surface of the ground fairly free from rubbish. It is best to do the harrowing on a warm day when the ground is dry on top. If then, a shower follows in a day or two, the immediate adverse effect on the grain is very slight.

Another unit is being added to the Manitoba Pulp and Paper Company's plant at Pine Falls on the Winnipeg river, which began operating a couple of months ago in order to bring its daily capacity up to 200 tons.

The British Way Of Dealing With International Questions An Example To Other Nations

American Farmers Are Buying Western Stock

Ohio Feeders Bought Several Thousand Head From Alberta Last Fall

Alberta and Saskatchewan, the cattle-raising provinces of Western Canada, are again turning to the United States market from which they were all but excluded by the Fordney tariff, writes James E. Poole, in the Country Gentleman. The new trade is on a calf basis, made possible by the recent advances in standard Western calves. Ohio feeders captured for several thousand Alberta calves at twenty-five dollars a head last fall, and are now advancing by part of the crop of 1927 before its arrival. From breeding ground to feedlot in Ohio these calves traveled 2,100 miles at a cost of thirteen dollars and forty cents a head, including the tariff of one and a half cents a pound.

Though a two-cent-a-pound tariff on fat Canadian cattle is prohibitive, and even one and a half cents on a yearling steer practically excludes it from the American market, a calf weighing 275 to 300 pounds at weaning time may jump the tariff hurdle successfully. Owing to sanitary restrictions, Canada is the only country from which a supply of stock cattle is possible, and this development promises to give the trade a new lease of life. Ohio feeders are seeking removal of state restrictions on importation of female cattle to enable them to handle Canadian heifer calves.

Dairymen Should Use All Sanitary Measures

Quality of All Dairy Products Depends on Clean Milk

The production of clean milk is of paramount importance to the dairy industry. This is clearly shown in a new pamphlet entitled "Producing Clean Milk," written by the Dominion Agricultural Bacteriologist, A. Grant Leachman, B.Sc. The author points out that the quality of our Canadian cheese, butter, condensed and powdered milk, ice-cream, and of milk and cream consumed in liquid state is dependent on the success of the milk producer in providing a clean milk. No manufacturer, cheesemaker, butter maker or city dairymen can raise the quality of his product higher than the quality of the milk delivered to him. Milk is easily contaminated but by proper methods of handling it can be easily protected against contamination. These methods are described in the pamphlet which may be obtained from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. It shows that ninety-nine per cent. of the contamination is controllable by the producer himself if he will employ ordinary sanitary measures which anyone handling a food product should be willing to take.

B.C. Talc Deposits

Toronto Capital to Develop Deposits in the Bent District

Toronto capital will develop the only known blue talc deposits in Canada, the bed located about ten miles southwest of Banff. A private company, adequately financed, has been organized, and it is said that development operations will begin at once. While talc deposits are also found in association with the blue talc, both are valuable, but blue talc, more so, being in demand for use in electrical machinery and equipment.

Hungarian Settlers

Plans are being considered for bringing out to Alberta about 2,000 Hungarians who are working under disadvantages in their native country, and who are of a sturdy agricultural type. Two hundred reached Calgary early and were distributed to adjacent farms, being looked after by the Canadian Colonization Association.

Canada's Timber Resources

The total stand of timber in Canada is estimated to comprise 482,000 million feet board measure of saw material, and 1,280 million cords of pulpwood, fuel-wood, posts, etc., a total of 246,220 million cubic feet. Of this, 108,212 million cubic feet is in the eastern provinces, 56,127 million in the prairie provinces, and 18,657 million in British Columbia; but British Columbia has 70 per cent. of the saw material in the Dominion.

The Emperor Yoshihito is the first of the Japanese emperors not to be buried in the neighborhood of the old capital, Kyoto.

When Great Britain, as at present in China, seems to be burdened with more than her share and to be the butt at which Chinese prejudice is directed by Bolsheviki inspirers, with other nations shyly helping to centre attention on Britain. It requires some faith in the British star to see a way through. The United States has even exposed itself to the suspicion of seeking to stand in favour of initiatives to Britain. Shame, it is true, is bringing about modification of the attitude of other foreign powers, having interests in China, with the result at last of some cooperation at Shanghai and other places where even the lives of foreigners have been menaced. It might not be too wild a conjecture to say that in the end Britain may stand highest of all nations with Chinese who now unspontaneously and ignorantly abhor her, and that, ultimately, China may perceive that Britain is the worthiest of them all, with the great Napoleon acknowledged on surrendering to Captain Maitland of H.M.S. Hecelophon, as representing Britain, "the most powerful, the most constant, and the most generous of my foes."

The visit of the Duke of York to the Antipodes curiously has evoked a handsome compliment to the British way of dealing with aboriginal races. Among the addresses to his Royal Highness was one from the Maoris, with whom the British settlers were at war as recently as 1871, when final pacification was brought about and the Maoris were admitted to a share in the government. Since then the Maoris have developed into first-class citizens, their race being represented in Parliament and in the New Zealand Government. Sir Maui Pomare, a Maori Minister in the Government, took a prominent part in the honor paid to the royal visitors, and translated the address, which was read by Prime Minister Coates. The translation is a unique achievement, refreshing in phrasing when compared with the usual platitudinous composition inflicted upon royalty or vice-royalty in more advanced countries. What could be more charming in its naive, characteristic eloquence than the Maori address thus translated?

"Three has Royalty deigned to honour our country, to enter our humble house, and to walk among us. It is good. This is fulfilled the word we spoke to you Elder Brothers that those who govern this far-flung Empire should walk and talk with peoples in all its severed parts and so understand and be understood of these. Obedience to them in the spirit of trust in which England appeals to the hearts of all races. Welcome, messenger of the era to be, when space and distance may be made of small account, and when words and works may encircle the globe as does the sun, so that no part of the Empire may brood in gloom and consider evil. Welcome, second presence, being the woman's peace. Woman's hands and tears soothed the wounds of a warring world. Now woman strives for the peace of God. Welcome, then, ye who embody the ever-recurring hope of mankind for a State in which health, happiness, and prosperity shall prevail.

Keep to Old Habits

English sheep, probably from the greater richness of the pastures, feed very much together. Scotch sheep are obliged to extend and scatter themselves over their pastures for the better discovery of food. Yet the English sheep, on being transferred to Scotland, keep their old habit of feeding in a mass, although so little adapted to the new surroundings. Their descendants will do the same, for it is said that the English sheep is not thoroughly naturalized into the necessities of a place till the third generation.

Activity at Bingo Mine

Extensive diamond drilling will be done on the Bingo Mine in Northern Manitoba this summer, as a result of a report made by Prof. Shorley, of the University of Wisconsin. A Chicago drilling company will do the work.

Sometimes the people who always say what they think have a mantle for saying disagreeable things.

MAY APPOINT A BRITISH ENVOY TO DOMINION

Ottawa.—Great Britain may appoint a representative to Canada to act in almost the same capacity to the minister who has been appointed from the United States, Premier W. L. Mackenzie King stated in the House of Commons. The Prime Minister said that a British representative would probably be a high civil servant to Canada.

Premier King's announcement came during his explanation of an item in the estimates of $8,000 for a secretary to the prime minister. The premier stated that he wished this item voted for an executive secretary. Some misunderstanding had arisen over the term "secretary." He would like to point out, he said, that the prime minister was the only minister who had not a deputy minister. His only assistant was from the private secretaries. The work of the prime minister's office, the prime minister added, had increased so that it was imperative in the public interest that it be organized on business-like lines similar to other departments.

Premier King referred to the appointment of a minister from the United States.

"I understand that in all probability Great Britain intends to appoint a representative to Canada in a similar capacity," Premier King said, "someone who will be in the position of a high commissioner to the Dominion and who will expect, perhaps, more in the way of an opportunity of conversation with the prime minister than with any other minister of the Government."

Then, Hugh Guthrie, Conservative leader, declared that in view of the explanation given by the prime minister he had no serious objection to the item being approved. When the vote first appeared in the estimates, there had been a general impression that it was for a "political secretary."

To Purchase

Legation Building

$500,000 Voted for Canadian Legation at Washington

Ottawa.—For the purchase of a building for the Canadian legation at Washington $500,000 was voted by the House of Commons after brief opposition. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, leader of the Conservative opposition, moved to have the amount reduced to $250,000, but on division the motion was lost by 51 to 29.

The Conservative leader argued that $250,000 would be sufficient to secure adequate rented quarters for the legation quite as good as the newly acquired minister from the United States to Canada would require in Ottawa.

The prime minister, in supporting the appropriation, said that it would be more economical to purchase than to rent and, moreover, if Canada was to maintain her prestige among the nations of the world represented in Washington a proper, permanent building should be secured.

Secrets Would Help Cantonese

Vancouver. A Chinese deserter says the Ukrainian Labor Union are being flooded with applications from workers who desire to be sent to China to help the Cantonese in their fight against the Northerners. A statement issued by the Union declares, however, that while the proletarians of the Soviet republic are always ready to support the Chinese workers monthly it is not recruiting men for such service.

Work Should Be Divided

Vancouver. That the building of vessels by the Canadian Government under Merchant Marine for the new service to be inaugurated between Canada and the West Indies "should be divided proportionately between the Atlantic and Pacific shipyards" is the recommendation contained in a resolution passed by the Vancouver board of trade and forwarded to Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Government House.

Japan May Send More Ships

Tokyo. Japan's fleet has been already in Chinese waters. It is expected to be augmented soon by four more destroyers. Various vernacular news papers are urging the government to assume a firmer attitude toward China, but the government is insisting on maintenance of its present attitude, although announcing that necessity may cause an alteration at any time.

Bank Messenger Robbed

With Police Close By Bandits Escape With $13,000 in Cash

Niagara Falls, N.Y. Two armed bandits held up and robbed Francis McMahon, messenger for the Cataract National Bank, in the main post office and escaped with about $13,000 in cash.

McMahon had just stepped from an armored bank car under police guard and entered the building when the men covered him with guns in the door of Postmaster Frederick G. Nowell's office, took the bag of money he carried and sped of away in an automobile bearing an Ontario license.

When he jumped out of the armored car McMahon ran into the post office, Postmaster Angus McIntyre, one of the three policemen guarding the armored car, left the machine and followed the bank messenger into the building. McMahon collided with him at the door as he was running out to give the alarm.

McIntyre ran across to the door through which the bandits fled and fired two shots as the machine sped away from the curb. Neither hit the bandit car, it is believed.

U.S. Air Mail

May Permit Canadian Stamps to Be Used in Future

Washington, D.C. Prepayment in Canadian stamps of the special fee of 10 cents for the United States air mail service will be arranged for Canadians. If there is any demand for the service.

Discussing informally the extension of the U.S. air mail to Canadian mail matter, Postmaster-General Noyes stated here that he saw no reason why Canada could not be given some arrangement whereby Canadian stamps could be used for the extra postage on matter to be transported by air. At present, while the ordinary postage of two cents can be prepaid in Canadian stamps, it is necessary to buy United States stamps to prepay the extra fee. It is understood that Canadian authorities have not asked for such an arrangement. No figure could be obtained here as to the number of letters being sent by people in Canada by the air mail route which now operates from coast to coast in the United States and is said to save from one to two days on ordinary postal routes.

South African Flag Question

Basis of Solution Believed to Have Been Found

Cape Town, South Africa. — The Cape Town Government newspapers welcome the report of the conference between the government flag committee and representatives of South African independent flag committees, as the basis of a solution of the flag question.

The opposition press, however, generally views the reports unfavorably, and strongly recommends the withdrawal of the flag bill this session.

The conference adjourned Monday May 19, with independent representatives leaving to secure approval of the new design presented by the government a flag with the cross of St. George on a green background divided into quarters.

Start Anti-British Movement

Native Section of Shanghai May Declare Boycott

Shanghai. A definite anti-British movement which may take the shape of a boycott similar to those recently declared at Canton and Hong Kong was launched in the native section of Shanghai.

A great anti-British league was organized at a meeting attended by representatives of the Kuomintang (Cantonese political party), the women's association, the Transvaal Union of the International Settlements, the Telegraph Operators Union, students of the Shanghai University and others.

Canada Takes Caruso's Place

New York. Edward Johnson, of Guilford, Ont., is in Caruso's shoes, literally and figuratively. Already hailed by John McCormack as the greatest tenor of the day, Mr. Johnson appeared as "Radames" in "Aida" at the Metropolitan opera house wearing Caruso's costume slightly from the widow as a tribute to the art of her husband's successor.

Partial Agreement With Soviets

Paris. The Soviet and French representatives have reached a partial accord on the question of the Russian debts to France. The Soviets propose in principle to pay an average of 60,000,000 gold francs annually for 62 years.

Royal Competitors

At Ottawa Show

Prince of Wales and Spanish Prince Are Sending Exhibits

Ottawa. Heirs to the thrones of Great Britain and Spain will vie with each other at the world's poultry congress being held here from July 27 to August 1 of this year. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales recently announced his intention of exhibiting some live birds from his farm in Cornwall, England, and word has been received that H.R.H. the Prince of Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne, intended exhibiting some birds from his own poultry farm. The birds from the Spanish Crown Prince's farm will be the feature of the Spanish national exhibit.

Great Rhodes, congress secretary, received word from Prof. Salvador Castellon, in charge of the royal poultry exhibit at Avonby de Mar, Spain, that the Spanish national exhibit was being forwarded on May 15, and that the live bird exhibit would be sent the following on July 11. An exhibition is being held in Madrid on June 29 at which will be chosen the birds to represent Spain, in addition to those from the royal farm.

The Spanish government, which has taken three spaces at the congress exhibition, with a total frontage of sixty feet to a depth of thirty feet, states that it is prepared to leave its exhibit in place for Central Canada exhibition. Twenty official delegates are coming from Spain.

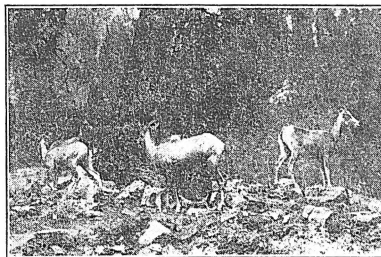

ALBERTA COAL QUESTION IS UP FOR DISCUSSION

Ottawa. Confidence was expressed by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, during a debate in the House of Commons, that if the Board of Railway Commissioners found the cost of transporting Alberta coal to Ontario was not more than $7 a ton, this rate could be put into effect immediately, by Order-in-Council, without waiting for another session of Parliament.

The Minister agreed that to enable Alberta coal to successfully compete with American anthracite in the markets of Ontario, a $7 a ton rate was necessary, and informed that if the board found the cost to be greater than that, the Government would be prepared to grant assistance in order to make the transportation of a million tons a year of Alberta lignite into Ontario economically feasible.

The question of unemployment in the coal industry in Alberta was brought up by E. J. Garland, T.P.A., Bow River.

Hon. Peter Hoehne, Minister of Labor, said he had received several letters from Alberta with respect to the situation in Alberta. He immediately upon receipt of these communications, he had sent a man to the mining fields in that province to study conditions. Mr. Hoehne assured the House that so far as he was concerned he was doing everything possible.

Why Lambs Leave Home

Fifty-three mountain sheep left their native haunts at Banff recently and were shipped by Canadian Pacific Express to their new home at Kamloops. The experiment, which was the result of a month's trapping operations carried out by the Royal Mounted Police wardens, was made at the request of the government of British Columbia, to rescue healthy sheep where the numbers of mountain sheep are depleted.

Visitors to Banff who flock to the spot on the Banff-Windermere high way known as "Sheep Point" for the purpose of "snapping" Mr. and Mrs. Sheep will not notice that their band of woolly friends has lessened. As a matter of fact, the sheep have increased so rapidly, that the author

WAGE INCREASE IS SOUGHT BY C.N.R. EMPLOYEES

Montreal. The board of conciliation, recently appointed to consider wage increases for more than 20,000 railway employees of the Canadian National Railway, convened here. The board is composed of W. J. Dunlop, K.C., chairman, Winnipeg; Howard S. Ross, K.C., Montreal, representing the men, and Peter White, K.C., Toronto, acting for the railway.

Of the 20,000 men, 18,000 are employed in various classes of work, including office clerks, passenger station employees, stores and warehouse workers, shippers and stationmen on engine and firemen. They are seeking a $20 a month increase in pay for monthly rated men and to continue for four working on hourly pay basis.

The remaining 2,000 employees are porter, sleeping and observation car service men. This class requested a 12 per cent. increase and a uniform wage schedule. At present they are working on four different schedules, the result of various amalgamations effected by the National system in the past few years.

Protest From Alberta

Claim Immigrants Unfit for Farm Work Becomes Public Charge

Edmonton. A protest against the dumping of Swiss and other European immigrants in Alberta cities and towns has been made by the Provincial Government. Acting Premier George Hardisty has wired Robert Folke, minister of immigration, calling his attention to the fact that men are being brought here ostensibly as farm workers, who are actually in the unskilled labor class and unfit for work on the farms.

With no provision made for them on their arrival here and with a scarcity of the sort of work they are able to do they are in most cases thrown upon the public for support and it is this phase of the situation that the Government is protesting.

Provinces Not Included In Government Grant

Appropriation for Diamond Jubilee Celebration Is for Ottawa Program Only

Edmonton. If Alberta puts in a diamond jubilee celebration of Confederation it will have to be at its own expense, according to an Ottawa ruling just received by the Government. The appropriation by the Federal parliament is to be spent if seems entirely by the Ottawa committee, for its own program. There being no intention to allocate any portion of the quarter million grant to the several provinces.

Vancouver. Viscount Willingdon, governor-general, was made an honorary life member of the British Columbia Institute of Journalists when he and Lady Willingdon were entertained by members of the Institute.

Problems Of Smuggling

U.S. Prison Made Goods Finding Their Way Into Canada

Toronto. R. L. Sparks, chairman of the Commercial Protective association, gave further evidence before the royal customs commission, here. He dealt first with the importation of poisonous goods into Canada. This created a most "obnoxious competition," but no adequate system of prevention had been established. Last year said Mr. Sparks, $50,000 worth of poisonous goods had been produced in the penal institutions of the United States. As the labor organizations and other interest were objected to the sale of these goods in the United States open market, a proportion of them found their way into Canada. This had been possible, he declared, as Black Island, Quebec, and Mr. Sparks.

"What the preventive service needs is brains and not brawn," declared Mr. Sparks, this morning. Ten expert men, he believed, would do more to solve the problems of smuggling than an army of untrained officers.

The efforts of his organization were not directed against petty smuggling, he said.

"But the man who, under cover of darkness brings in a truckload of silk is a criminal," he declared. Thus, the petty smuggler broke the law, but his offense might be recorded in the nature of a moral lapse. While that of the big commercial smuggler was a deliberate crime. The real deterrent was a jail sentence not a fine, he said.

"What you recommend is rigid, swift, impartial enforcement of the law," interjected Chief Commissioner Brown.

"Yes," said Mr. Sparks.

Supplementary Estimates

Grants for Maritime Provinces as Recommended by Duncan Report

Ottawa. Supplementary estimates for 1927-28 were tabled in the House by Hon. J. A. Rood.

The total is $14,637,761.12, of which $628,323 is chargeable to capital account, the balance $14,009,438.12 being chargeable to Consolidated Revenue fund account.

Provision is made for grants to the Maritime provinces pending consideration of provincial subsidies. Nova Scotia, $875,000; New Brunswick, $800,000; Prince Edward Island, $125,000, a total of $1,800,000, as recommended by the Duncan report. Flat increases for the other provinces are provided in an item of $2,000,000.

An amount of $300,000 is included for the purchase of land, building equipment and furnishings for civilian residence and offices for the Canadian legation at Washington, D.C.

A further grant of $200,000 is made towards expenditures in connection with the World Poultry congress to be held in Ottawa this summer.

There is $15,000 to provide for a trial shipment of Alberta domestic coal to be made by rail and haul under the supervision of the Pacific coast board, provided one-third of the total cost of the government is borne by other governmental, municipal and private organizations.

NEW PROBLEMS ARE NOW FACING THE CANTONESE

Shanghai. — Serious reverses on the Yangtze battlefield and outbreaks of fierce factional fighting at Shanghai and elsewhere between moderates and radicals are problems now facing the Cantonese, who only a few weeks ago were hammering northward in a definite threat on Peking, seat of the Northern government.

The factional controversies between the military and moderate wing of the Cantonese regime and the radical wing, which has its seat at Hankow, resulting for many weeks, flared into active conflict when plain clothes men, acting under direction of General Chiang Kai-Shek, Cantonese generalissimo and leader of the moderates raided the headquarters of the Cantonese radical labor union in Shanghai, Hangchow, Ningbo and Amoy.

Fighting resulted and in Shanghai 12 persons were killed and injured wounded in the various struggles. The raiders, armed with machine guns, pistols and bombs, attacked every known union center, in addition to the strike of 100,000 to 150,000 laborers. In one building about 50 laborers were arrested.

Similar raids were carried on in Hangchow, Ningbo and Amoy, although there was comparatively little fighting in the latter places.

BRITISH WOMEN MAY CONTROL LARGEST VOTE

London. John Bull may be outvoted in the next general election by the women of his household.

This prospect was created by Premier Baldwin's announcement in the House of Commons that the Government will introduce a bill at the next session of Parliament lowering the minimum voting age for women from 20 to 21 years. It is estimated that 5,000,000 women will be enfranchised under the measure and when the next general election comes around, normally late in 1929 there will be 13,000,000 British women able to vote compared with about 11,000,000 men.

The momentary declaration was made with seeming carelessness in the prime minister's following discussion of the franchise question by the cabinet. In a last hour he informed the House of the Government's decision to lower the voting age for women to equality with men.

The announcement immediately became the political sensation of the day. The incident, introduced by Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill and the Government's unadvised bill for reducing the voting age, were interpreted as a move and public started to discuss Britain's political future, with the balance of power in the hands of the women.

The announcement is hailed by opponents as the final victory in a long campaign which started decades ago in the hope-sick and crumbling days of an empire and passed a watershed milestone during the past two months with much talking but no action and much talk about taking their share of power in the hands of the women.

China Needs Powerful Leader

Or Struggle May Last For Years

Opinion of Shanghai Official

Shanghai. Foreigners may never fully regain the status they held in China before the present unrest started in the opinion of Sterling Fessenden, chairman of the Shanghai municipal council. This council is the governing body of the international settlement of Shanghai.

Mr. Fessenden predicts that the present military struggle in China may continue for a number of years depending on whether some powerful leader arises who can command the respect or fear of the Chinese people. The economic disturbance may not abate for many years.

With regard to the defense of the foreign settlements at Shanghai, Mr. Fessenden made the following remark:

"I had not the British foreseen the situation and sent large numbers of troops thousands of foreigners in Shanghai would have been massacred."

Plans for H.B. Work

Petroleum Airport, N.J. L. F. A. Lawrence, of the Canadian Air Force, took off for Halifax in the first of six Fokker biplanes purchased by the Canadian government for extensive survey work on Hudson Bay and Hudson Strait. The other five machines are to be delivered before June.

Miners Appeal For Relief

Ottawa. An appeal from the miners of Lethbridge that the Government take some action to relieve the situation there as a result of the mines being closed, was read in the House of Commons by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative leader. No action was taken on it.

Twenty Down in Boat Accident

Tokio. More than 20 persons were drowned near Osaka, Korea, when an overloaded ferry boat capsized. There were 200 passengers on the boat. While a number were still missing, the authorities stated they believed the majority of the passengers were rescued.

No Agreement With Italy

Ottawa. There is no agreement between the Italian and Canadian governments with regard to bringing Italian laborers to Canada. Hon. Robert Porter, minister of immigration, said in the House in reply to a question from Hon. J. Woodsworth.

Erecting Tree Wireless Station

Calgary. Erection of one of the most powerful broadcasting stations in Canada, at Red Deer, Alberta, is announced by the Alberta Power Grain Company, which operates 22 grain elevators in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

"Don't spend your wish in a fit of pique," she challenged him. "What is it?"

"He ignored her challenge for a moment while he lighted a cigarette, first, offering her his platinum case. When he had lit the cigarette, he turned to her and dropped the burnt match into it. For another moment he puffed calmly. Then he turned to face the girl who looked back at him from the corner of the room.

"Would you mind," he asked, softly, deliberately, "telling me what is your general impression of me? Not an analysis of my character, please, but an expression of the quality of my regard for me?"

"She replied without hesitation, 'I have always distrusted you, but I have never been convinced that I was justified. I didn't trust you, I'd have liked you. As it is, I am afraid I dislike you, at times, because I know you are dishonest, dishonest with me, and with Yvonne who loves you. Is that the answer you want?'"

"Not exactly, but it will serve. Suppose I should ask you to become my wife?"

"You used to tell me that you might do that, some day. I've always had an answer ready. I'd never marry you because I could never love you. I'd could love you I wouldn't marry you because, by all the laws of decency, you belong to Yvonne whom you allowed to have you before you decided to laugh at her for her pretensions that she would be worthy of you."

"He examined his cigarette flame, and then drew in his smoke.

"That establishes our position to ward each other," he observed, and was silent for another interval. "But the situation is that you are going to marry me, no or of the loss, because you will have me."

"She swayed. Her slender white hand went to her throat again. She knew he was not talking idly. She had gone through one sort of battle with Kenneth; now, she sensed, she was at the beginning of another, and in some more perilous way, a more sure one. She waited for him to go on.

"He threw the cigarette into the fire place and faced her across the table. "He placed in understanding the situation of what I am about to say," he began. "You have wondered where your money came from. You have wondered why it was given to you. I will tell you."

Maybe This Contains A Hint For You

Mrs. Edward Jones

And, Oh—I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was greatly benefited by the use of it. My belly weighed 115 lbs. when born. I think this Prescription is the best remedy on the market and I hope it will help other poor women the same as it did me. I can't see enough for the good work Dr. Pierce is doing.—Mrs. Edward Jones. You'll soon feel better if you obtain this Prescription at your nearest drug store in Tablets or Liquid; or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Out., for trial pack of tablets.

W. N. E. 1677

Suddenly the little body stiffened. A bit of the brown came back into the eyes. Something of the scarlet returned to the quivering lips. She swung around slowly and walked firmly back into the room until she stood so close to Brandon that her body was almost against his.

"I want to keep my money, Francis," she said, her voice quivering but soft and imploringly pleading. "I couldn't do without it now. But I am very much in love with someone else. Very much in love, Francis. And it's the kind of love you would never understand. I don't understand myself. Nor does he, the man, I mean, that I'm in love with. You'll be kind to me, won't you? You'll tell me why the money was given me? You'll tell me what I've done that's wrong, so that I shall not do it again? I'll be anything you say, if I may have my money, the money that has made life so beautiful with money and my love."

"Anything I say?"

Before his sudden thrusting back at her these pleading words, she shrank as if he had struck her. Dazed again she heard him saying: "You may have your love, my dear girl. I would not interfere with that. It's not I want, for reasons and purposes of my own; not your love. I know the one you mean; I know the man to whom you've given the love that neither you nor he understands. Give it. Let him have it. Take his in return if you can with it. All of that shall be the bargain a bargain of today."

"The morals of today, you know, and the conventions, are not what they were in the yesterday, nor you are not the girl of yesterday, nor your kind of love the sacrament that it used to be."

"I am asking you to be my wife—only. To give me yourself only. You may give your love where you want it to be received and take whatever pleases you in exchange. Surely you, who have played the game of love, will not shrink before the flame you very essence kindles?"

Deep colors came and went across her face. She closed her eyes and then opened them slowly, to quickly shut them.

Great Seal of Britain

New Emblem of Royal Authority Is to Be Made

The passing of the Royal Titles Bill, whereunder the titles of His Majesty and of Parliament are changed to conform with views presented by the Imperial Conference, necessitates the production of a new Great Seal, the specific emblem of royal authority. Any document to which the Great Seal is attached is the instrument by which the will of the Sovereign is declared, such as proclamations, summoning Parliament, charters to towns, treaties with foreign powers, credentials to ambassadors, patents of nobility, and appointments of colonial governors.

The Lord Chancellor is responsible for the safety of the Great Seal, and the seals of the nobles, and keeps them in a secret safe whose whereabouts is supposed to be known only to him self, though history records the fact that during the reign of George III. burghers carried it off from the presence of Lord Thurlow, then Lord Chancellor. This is the only occasion on which a Great Seal is known to have been permanently lost.

The King himself may have Great Britain without impairing the Constitution, but if the Lord Chancellor wants to go about elaborate arrangements have to be made for appointing a commission of responsible people to look after the Seal.

When a new Great Seal is made the old undergoes a process called "denaturing." The King in the presence of the Privy Council, gives the old one a gentle blow with a hammer and it then becomes the property of the Lord Chancellor.

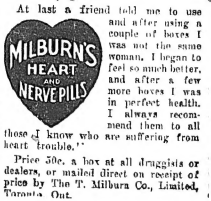

Heart Palpitation
Dizzy, Sinking Spells

Mrs. M. A. Gagnon, Denville, Alta., writes—"Some time ago I was very nervous, could not sleep at night, had dizzy, sinking spells and palpitation of the heart, and was so run down I could not do my housework, but just leave everything and sit down."

I spent a lot of money using medicine from the doctor, but it did not do me any good.

At last a friend told me to use a couple of boxes of a woman named Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I felt so much better, and after a few more boxes I was in perfect health. I always recommend them to all of my heart trouble."

Loneliness of the Great

Cares of Responsible Position Crowd Out Intimate Associations

Premier Baldwin of Great Britain has joined the silent band of lonely men, numbering in a recent group with the passing of years he feels extremely lonely. Disraeli, Gladstone, Lincoln, Napoleon, Cromwell and Carlyle all voiced this sentiment. Milton was a lonely figure while writing his greatest works. These modern dictators, Mussolini and de Rivera, are pitiful in their loneliness, for the cares of state have crowded out of their lives cherished associations. — Kingston Whig Standard.

Sufferer With Severe

Backache Finds Relief

Mrs. A. Wilcox Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

Saskatchewan Lady Suffered With a Very Lame Back. Staphenburg, Sask. (Special). The sterling value of Dodd's Kidney Pills is again shown by the following well known resident of this place. She writes: "My back was so lame that I would have to move out of a chair when I was sitting down. There were such sharp pains that I had to look a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and have not been bothered since."

The satisfaction Dodd's Kidney Pills are giving as a remedy for kidney trouble is shown by the large number of people who keep them always at hand. They have learned that the proper way to avoid serious forms of kidney trouble, such as rheumatism, diabetes, dropsy and heart disease, is to take the early symptom of kidney trouble. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys, healing and strengthening them, they enable the kidneys to strain all impurities out of the blood.

The Famous "Waterloo Ball"

Function Took Place Two Nights Previous to Battle

H. Oldfield Fox writes in John of London's Weekly: "Lady Augusta Fox's book of reminiscences, 'Whit-Chit,' makes a statement that there was no ball on the night before Waterloo. The function generally known as 'The Waterloo Ball,' took place, not on the night preceding Waterloo, July 17, but on the night of the 16th. The name is justified, however, because the battle of Quatre Bras, which opened the Waterloo campaign so far as Wellington's army was concerned, was fought on the following day. The dance was held at the lodgings of the Duchess of Richmond at Brussels, and the duke himself was present."

Tomb Fifty Centuries Old

Found in Egyptian Ruins and Contains Many Unique Features. Discoverers of a tomb estimated to be fifty centuries old, dating back to the third dynasty of the ancient Egyptians, has been announced. The discoverers say it may be the earliest tomb ever found in Egypt.

The find was made by Cecil Flinn, who has been conducting excavations in behalf of the Antiquities Department of the Egyptian government, at Sakkarah, a village near the ruins of Memphis. Near Sakkarah is the famous Step Pyramid, believed to be the oldest of the Egyptian pyramids. The tomb is said to contain many unique features.

Occupies Envious Position

Troubles Concerning Canada Small Compared to Those of Other Nations

Everywhere save in Canada there seem to be unrest and uncertainty. Such troubles as those which concern the Canadian people are indeed as nothing in comparison with those which afflict the older and more congested countries of the world. We have our little domestic squabbles and our little sectional grievances, but they do not amount to much. It is in many, many years since any great disaster has overtaken Canada. We have no volcanoes to fear, and all the minor earth shocks, that we feel have their origin thousands of miles away. We are at peace with our neighbors and with the world. We have all of the territory that we want and would not know what to do with any more that we might acquire. We live in no fear of aggression and we do not require the services of a large standing army to maintain our frontiers.

Little Helps For This Week

Every man has two angels, one on his right shoulder, and one on his left. When he does good, the angel on his right shoulder writes it down, and when he does evil, the angel on his left shoulder writes it down, but does not seal it. He waits until midnight, if before that time, the man knows his heart and says, "Gracious Allah! I have sinned; forgive me!" the angel rubs it out; but if not, then at midnight he seals the record, and the angel upon the right shoulder weeps. Persian.

Sculptor Long Dead

Billed For Posters

City Fathers of Venice Are Laughing

Stock of Pisa

Pisa, the city of the Leaning Tower, is laughing at those potent, power and revered signers, the city fathers of Venice.

When Signor Mussolini inaugurated the recently renovated historic pulpit in Pisa Cathedral, the work of the famous sculptor, Giovanni Pisano, 620 years ago, the event was advertised by posters.

Pisa sent some of the posters to Venice, and the publicity office of the Venice Municipality addressed a bill of bill-clicking expenses, 12 lire, to "Signor Giovanni Pisano, Pisa."

After that the publicity manager at Venice Town Hall received a letter which read:

"Sir: Somewhere, I see, has paid the bill for the reconstruction of my pulpit. I assure you that I did not pay. I, Giovanni Pisano, the son of that Nicola Pisano, who is styled 'the father of Italian sculpture,' lived in the flesh between 1250 and the early 1300s. I had believed myself to be not now alive, and thought all Italians knew that. But I find there is someone in Venice who does not know." Yours, etc., Giovanni Pisano.

Asthma Cannot Last when the greatest of all asthma remedies is used. Dr. J. B. Kellner's Asthma Remedy assuredly deserves this exalted title. It has to its credit thousands of cases which other preparations had failed to benefit. It brings help to even the most severe cases and brings the patient to a condition of blessed relief. Surely suffering from asthma is needless when a remedy like this is so easily secured.

GOPHER DESTRUCTION

"A gopher in time saves nine." Now is the zero hour to renew hostilities with the enemy.

If nothing is done to destroy gophers until after seeding the opportune moment will be past. The enemy will be vastly increased in numbers. Our most effective weapon, the poison, will not be nearly so effective for the reason that green food will be available and the gopher pleases himself whether he eats the poison or not. Before seeding time the food is scarce and the poison grain is gratefully accepted.

Many municipalities supply sufficient poison to cover the land once.

At the Dominion Experimental Station at Scott the following home prepared mixture is used, with excellent success.

METHOD OF PREPARATION
Dissolve four ounces of strychnine in three quarts of water to which add one quart of vinegar. Keep warm on the back of the cook stove for twelve hours then add enough water to bring the solution back to one gallon. Mix this with 50 pounds of wheat.

Use a wash tub to mix the poison with the grain in order that none of the liquid will leak away. Stir well at least three times during the first 24 hours and keep covered to prevent drying out before using. If liquid remains in the bottom of the tub after frequent stirring, a handful of shorts may be stirred in to take up this moisture. Place only a small spoonful at each hole on a bright warm day when the gophers are active.

New Wheat Pool Contracts

The Alberta Wheat Pool has not issued any new contracts. A report that these new contracts had been issued is erroneous. Members of the Wheat Pool will receive these in due course, but in the meantime are advised not to pay any attention to rumors regarding this matter. The new contracts will be for a period of five years from the date of the expiration of the present contract. Present Pool members will not be charged any fee for signing the new contracts if signed before August 1928.

Are Its Cream Patrons

Many features about the Creamery business are very important. It is necessary to have good equipment and efficient employees, plus a good market for the finished product.

More important than all these, however, are our Cream Patrons. We have to depend on You Mr. Cream Shipper, for our cream. To great extent the quality of our products depends on the quality of the Cream You produce, and the care You take of it.

We want Cream, more Cream, and better Cream, if possible in return for which you can absolutely count on best grade, service and price when you ship your cream to—
